The LINIMENT of our Forefathers.

A VISITING MAYOR—Perry M. Williams of Maricopa spent yesterday in the city. He was invited while here to guarantee a thousand dollar stake race for the coming territorial fair, to be known as the "Maricopa stake." Mr. Williams did not say definitely that he would do so, but the latch-string will be left outside until he makes up his mind. Fame is often a bubble that comes from blowing one's own horn.—Philadelphia Record.

OF LOCAL INTEREST

THE GRASSHOPPERS—Phoenix has had far less trouble with bugs and other insects this year than usual, but for the last day or two the grasshoppers have been making more or less of a nuisance of themselves in the evenings.

A NEW RANGER—John R. Clarke of Santa Cruz county was yesterday commissioned as a member of the Arizona ranger force. His probable appointment was mentioned some days ago by this paper, but it was not finally made until yesterday.

AN EASTERN VISIT—L. H. Landis, general agent of the Randolph lines, returned to the city yesterday afternoon from El Paso, where he had gone in company with Mrs. Landis, who is now en route to her former home at Cleveland. She will remain in the east for two months.

THE DISTURBERS—Five disturbers of the peace, Michael Kelly, Frank Lewis, C. Beginning, Frank Kuchan and S. Boscoe, were sent to jail for seven days each by Judge Johnston yesterday morning. Mike Sullivan, who was guilty of the same crime, paid a fine of $7 and was discharged.

ARIZONA'S INTERNAL REVENUE—The government does not find that Arizona is entirely free of the tax, even though congress does spend a neat little sum to keep the territorial machine going. The internal revenue receipts collected in Arizona during the fiscal year ending June 30, as shown by figures supplied the governor's office by the revenue collector, were as follows: From special taxes, $37,382.13; from sale of beer stamps, $18,675; from cigar stamps, $6,217.39; from tobacco stamps, $2154. Total, $64,428.52.

RECOVERED HIS WHEEL—R. P. Wilson, who is in the employ of the Prescott Brewing company, in the distributing department, yesterday recovered his Pierce wheel which had been stolen from him about four days previous. The wheel had been purchased by him the day before it was stolen. It was found hidden in the backwoods, south of town, the cushion, handlebars, pedals, chain and forks removed and the frame badly broken. There is little doubt but that the wheel had been stolen for the purpose of obtaining the Pierce wheel stolen by the same party, and with a view of locating the thief Mr. Wilson will pay $75 reward for the arrest of the thief or any information leading to his arrest.

I came here as a boy and consider it my home, the dearest country in the world.

"Another so-called argument the jointists hold out to us is that Albuquerque will be the capital and the capital will then be much nearer to Apache county. The fact is that under the law the capital will remain at Santa Fe for ten years at least and that is farther away than Phoenix. What will be done at the end of that time no man knows. For one I have implicit faith in the building of a north and south railroad from the coal fields to central Arizona long before that time and in that event Phoenix would be nearer even than Albuquerque is. Furthermore Phoenix has a future, backed by an immediate country of wonderful resources, such as Albuquerque never will have and in less than ten years will undoubtedly be a city of which the territory could be more proud than it could of Albuquerque, even if the latter city were the capital.

Mr. Crosby, who is himself a Mormon, was asked concerning the claim made by some jointists that the Mormon people as a class are in favor of jointure. His reply was a very vigorous denial. He said: "In southern Apache county the people are mostly of the Mormon faith, and I doubt if there is one Mormon living there who favors jointure. In Navajo county they are very few indeed." He said he had made careful inquiry in Mesa City and failed to find a Mormon there who favors, or can be in any way induced to favor, jointure. He also said: "I have had reliable reports from Graham county to the same effect. The Mormons came here in an early day. It is their home, and they revere it as such and are as loyal to their home and country as any people."

Speaking of statehood generally he said, with warmth: "The natural differences in the people and the natural topographical differences in the two domains make a coalescing and intermingling of interests impossible even with jointure. There is a vast desert between the two territories, almost uninhabited, and much of the way a rough and mountainous country, such a country as never will be populated, and the interests of the two peoples diverge, one to the east and the other to the west. wait for statehood until we can get it right. Jointure is like a crust thrown to a beggar, and when I speak this way I am speaking for New Mexico also. I do not believe that territory has been treated right any more than Arizona has. She ought to have separate statehood as well as Arizona, and both will have it in a short time if they are patient and make no mistake next November."

Mr. Crosby said he had been told that his statehood arguments were mere sentiment. He pleaded guilty. "What is civilization but sentiment?" was his answer. "Sentiment is the foundation of all human organization of a civilized nature from the family to the nation, and state patriotism is but little, if any, lower than national patriotism. We could never be united with New Mexico even with jointure, and we might better be a united territory with everything to hope for than a disunited state with two sections that never can act in unison."

Personal Mention

Mrs. B. F. Peters of Prescott was in the city yesterday.

Mr. Morris, the postmaster and a general merchant at Quartzsite, spent yesterday in the city on a purchasing trip. He will return to his home today.

Among the outgoing passengers on this morning's S. F. P. & P. train were: J. R. Luther, for San Francisco; Samuel N. Taylor and Martin Freund, for San Diego; L. Nordberg, for Chicago; H. M. Campbell and wife, for Pueblo;

J. V. Spotts and wife, for Memphis; W. H. Wilson, Albuquerque; Mrs. F. Harris and F. E. Harris for Los Angeles, with a side trip to the Canyon; W. K. Baxter, Denver, and W. J. Marshall for Los Angeles.

There were yesterday registered as guests of the Ford: William Sippy, Los Angeles; George Crosby, Jr., St. Johns; B. Washiger, San Francisco; Dr. J. J. Fleming, Wickenburg, and D. R. Gillis, Prescott.

Among the outgoing passengers on last evening's train for the south were: Nora Smith, for Crawfordville, Ind.; Chas. Howard and H. H. Earle, for Los Angeles; Mrs. E. J. Sullivan and Miss Anne Sullivan, for Charleston, W. Va.; and Marie Killeen for Hermosillo, Mexico.

There were yesterday registered as guests of the Hotel Adams: M. Sander, San Francisco; Mrs. Mary G. Abbott, Perry M. Williams, Maricopa; Sig Blath, Chicago; A. Garfield Drake, Los Angeles; R. G. Johnson, New Orleans; D. E. White, El Paso; J. G. Evans and M. McGarron, Boston.

AMUSEMENTS

Nothing but the most favorable comment was heard as the audience dispersed on the final act last night of "Ranch No. 10." The only thing to mar the success of the evening was the omission of Miss Lita's song. Miss Lita's cold developed into laryngitis, and while not serious, prevented her from singing. The performance last night brought out the strength of the company and the bill itself has not been equaled this season or any other. The entire company deserves special mention, but lack of space forbids. Mr. Beggs appeared in another dual role—"Al and Tom Mclelland." He was superb in both characters and few actors on the American stage could equal his rendition. Miss Lita as "Annie Smalley" was as winsome as ever and in the stronger scenes rose to the occasion. V. T. Henderson, R. A. Bennett, Franklin Hall and Ned Barrington all made "hits" and Ethel McMullen as Corlender L. Smalley and Myrtle Barrington as Nelly Barrett were exceedingly clever. Josephine Dunbar as Silver Bud, the Indian girl, displayed versatility and a gorgeous costume. The specialties were very entertaining and the motion picture "The Wedding" was one of the most interesting of the season. Tonight and tomorrow night "Ranch No. 10" will be repeated and tonight an excursion train from Tempe and Mesa will be run over the Santa Fe. Dancing follows the performance and the Tempe and Mesa theater patrons may be certain of getting their money's worth and then some this week. Seats may be reserved at Sanichas. Prices 10c, 20c, 30c and 50c.
